Agenda

Arrangements are already underway for the 2009 Agresso User Conference – and we'd very much like you to attend.

The conference is open to all members of the Agresso User Group. It is jointly organised by Agresso Ltd and the UK Agresso User Group Council and is very much the highlight of the Agresso year.

It represents excellent value for money, giving you the chance to attend a wide range of workshops and presentations designed to help you get the very best from your existing Agresso solutions.

It also gives you the opportunity to network with Agresso staff, the UK User Group Council and approximately 400 Agresso users from the UK and abroad, and to meet some of our strategic partners.

The conference will take place in the historic seaside town of Brighton, on the South Coast of England – a town known as much nowadays for its vibrant arts and youth cultures as for its more traditional seaside attractions.

Keynote Speaker

Business author and leadership coach JIM STEELE is fascinated by the nature of peak performance and has spent much of the last decade working with highly successful individuals from the worlds of sport and business. He will share what he has learned of key peak performance strategies and will offer delegates the necessary tools to apply these methods in any area of their life.

After Dinner Speaker

PERRY MCCARTHY is one of Britain's top racing drivers, with a career spanning over twenty years. Known to millions as the original "Stig" from BBC2's Top Gear, he is a superb 'after dinner' speaker, providing a highly amusing insight to the world's most glamorous sport. His hilarious autobiography Flat Out, Flat Broke, is a motor racing best seller.
